Greenhouse Gas Emissions

In August 2022 the ACT Government announced it is phasing out all new fossil fuel gas network connections in the ACT. A Regulation preventing new fossil fuel gas network connections is expected to come into effect by late 2023. To avoid the possibility of your development not being able to connect to the fossil fuel gas network upon completion, the development should be designed to be all-electric or constructed as 'electric ready'. Further information can be found at www.energy.act.gov.au.

Are you proposing connection to the fossil fuel gas network?

No

NOTE: Developments with operating greenhouse gas emissions that exceed 250 tonnes of carbon dioxide per year need to submit a Greenhouse Gas Emissions Statement. Large developments with significant gas or diesel use may need to provide a greenhouse gas emissions statement. Single dwelling developments are unlikely to be required to report operating greenhouse gas emissions. More information can be found at (<https://www.planning.act.gov.au>)
